

WEBSITE TERMS & CONDITIONS

This website (www.medicalmatters.com.au) is designed to increase your knowledge and understanding of Medical Matters practice. Before using this website, it is important that you understand and accept that this website is merely informative and the information is of a general and not exhaustive nature, not being specific to you or your health needs. The information is not intended to be used to diagnose, treat, cure or prevent any disease, or illness, or for therapeutic purposes.

The information made available to you is not a substitute for regular advice from your doctor or health care professional. You should not act in reliance on any statement contained in the information made available to you and should consult your doctor or health care professional for an informed diagnosis and before varying your medication, dietary habits, exercise routine or any other aspect of your wellbeing. Medical Matters does not warrant the accuracy of the opinions expressed on this website nor do they accept liability for any injury, loss or damage incurred by use of or in reliance on the information provided through this website whether arising from negligence or otherwise. If you do not understand or agree with limited purpose for which the information is made available on this website please exit this site or contact us for further information.

The Medical Matters website (Website) is owned and operated by Medical Matters. By using or accessing any part of the Website or the information or material contained in the Website (Content) you acknowledge that you have read, understood and agreed to be bound by these Conditions of Use.

You agree that your use of the Website and any Content will be governed by the law of the State of Queensland, Australia, and any dispute arising out of the use of the Website or the Content will be determined by the courts of that State and their appellate courts. Medical Matters does not warrant or represent that the Content is appropriate for use in other locations where such Content is or may be illegal, or may infringe any person's rights.

Medical Matters hereby licenses you to view and print copies of the Content from the Website and subject to the following conditions:

The Content is only used for obtaining information about the services offered by Medical Matters.
The Content is used for non-commercial purposes.

All other copying, downloading, reproduction, distribution, adaptation, modification or communication of the Website or the Content is prohibited, except with the express authorisation of Medical Matters.

Intellectual property in all programs, publications, designs, trademarks, products, processes, software, technology, information, know-how, or ideas contained in the Website or the Content is owned by or licensed to Medical Matters unless otherwise specified and is not licensed to you except as expressly set out in these terms.

You are not permitted to link or frame the Website without Medical Matters express permission.

The Website is intended to provide general information on a subject or subjects and is not an exhaustive treatment of such subject(s). The Website and the Content are subject to change at any time without notice. Medical Matters endeavours to provide accurate and up-to-date Content, however the Website and the Content may contain errors.

Medical Matters makes no express or implied representations or warranties regarding the quality, accuracy, completeness or suitability for any purpose of the Website or the Content. Without limiting the foregoing, Medical Matters does not warrant that the Website or the Content will be error-free or will meet any criteria of performance or quality. Medical Matters expressly disclaims all implied warranties, including, without limitation, warranties of merchantability, title, fitness for a particular purpose, non-infringement, compatibility, security, and accuracy.

To the extent that any non-excludable warranties are implied into these conditions by law, Medical Matters liability in respect of the Website and the Content is limited to resupplying the relevant Content or the reasonable cost of resupplying the relevant Content, whichever Medical Matters elects to provide.

Your use of this document and information is at your own risk. You assume full responsibility and risk of loss resulting from the use of this document or information. None of Medical Matters, or any of its related entities or employees will be liable for any loss, damage, claim, cost or expense howsoever incurred in connection with the use of the Website or the Content.

Without limiting the foregoing, Medical Matters and its related entities and employees will not in any case be liable for any direct or indirect lost profit or any special, indirect, incidental, consequential, or punitive damages howsoever incurred in connection with the use of the Website or the Content.

If any of the foregoing is not fully enforceable for any reason, the remainder shall nonetheless continue to apply.

Medical Matters and the Medical Matters logos, product names and all page headers, footers, and icons are trademarks or registered trademarks of Medical Matters. All other product names mentioned are the trademarks of their respective owners. You are not permitted to use these trademarks.

Certain links included in the Website lead to resources maintained by third parties over whom Medical Matters has no control. Medical Matters provides these links only as a ready reference for searching the internet and not as an endorsement of those resources or their providers. Medical Matters makes no representations or warranties as to the accuracy, suitability or any other aspect of those resources.

Any personal information that you may provide to Medical Matters via the Website will be handled in accordance with Medical Matters' privacy policy. A copy of the privacy policy may be viewed on the Website by clicking here.

Changes to our terms of use

Medical Matters reserves the right to modify or amend this privacy statement at any time and for any reason. Nothing contained herein creates or is intended to create a contract or agreement between Medical Matters and any user visiting the Website or providing identifying information of any kind
